Some people believe that the proportionality assumption about radiation should be made because it gives a "conservative" estimate of possible risks. Rather than take more, she thinks this, together with other symptoms, may indicate BP II, so back to Lamictal.